Domestic Violent Extremists Trumpet Upcoming National “Day of Hate” by Encouraging Direct Actions

The NYPD Intelligence & Counterterrorism Bureau (ICB) recently observed online domestic violent extremist (DVE) messaging announcing a national “Day of Hate,” scheduled to take place on Saturday, 25 February. Based on ICB observations of extremist postings online and at least one shared propaganda video on a social media platform, the anonymous online organizers of this overtly racist, anti-Semitic event are instructing likeminded individuals to drop banners, place stickers and flyers, or scrawl graffiti as a form of biased so-called activism. According to at least one DVE shared message, organizers requested that participants in the “Day of Hate” photograph or record direct actions and submit them online in order to create a compendium of exploits from around the country. Members of the service are advised to maintain elevated situational awareness and vigilance on February 25 for DVE activism in the form of biased, in-person acts around the city and at potential key locations that might garner higher interest from these types of actors based on the locations’ affiliations with certain religious or social communities. Please see accompanying infographic for awareness of DVE imagery.

NATIONAL DAY OF HATE

Join [redacted] in a day of MASS ANTI-SEMITIC ACTION

We are calling on all fighters of truth and justice to take a stand, and expose the international clique of parasitic vermin that infest our nation today. A national day of activism is set for February 25th. Make your voices heard loud and clear, that the one true enemy of the American people is the Jew. We refuse to capitulate to the wishes of the anti-white establishment, that our race be subverted and controlled by the devil's chosen few. The people demand White Power!

Shock the masses with banner drops, stickers, fliers, and graffiti. Inaction is unacceptable. The time to stand up for your people is today. Take pictures, and videos of your activism and send it to [redacted]

Groups that are interested in participating, please reach out to get featured in this post.

Hail Victory!
